Historical Contributions of Blacks in Nursing

Join the Rochester Medical Museum and Archives and the Rochester Academy of Medicine as Robyn Hilliard, MSN, CMSRN, NEA-BC (Interim Director of Nursing Practice and Policy, Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA) shares her program on the impact and influence of black women on the nursing profession.

Robyn Hilliard, MSN,
CMSRN, NEA-BC

Highlighting nurses such as Mary Aliza Mahoney, Ludie C. Andrews, Mary Seacole, Harriet Tubman, and Namahyoke Curtis, Ms. Hilliard will examine historical stereotypes associated with African-American nurses as well the as contributions these nurses have made in advancing the profession through collegiate organizations, state legislation, and federal agency integration.
